& TrépanierBaer Gallery present

“The He/She Plays”

Depending on their cadence and context, words can land like flower petals or like a lead balloon. Award-winning playwright Sharon Cavanagh brings her wry perspective to “he said, she said” in a series of short conversations between a man and a woman. They are amusements, wry slices of life that take a slightly tilted view of the world and are not, under any circumstances, to be taken seriously.

Performance by Roberta Mauer Phillips and David LeReaney.

60 minutes, no intermission.

This is a free event, though donations will be gratefully accepted.
